Dance Corner earns Youth Protection Advocates safety certification

By Carrie Smith,
Owner, The Dance Corner

The Dance Corner has become the first dance studio in the region to achieve Youth Protection Advocates in Dance certification. The certification marks its commitment to keeping kids happy, healthy and safe in dance.

YPAD is the nation's only dance certification program focusing on both safety and wellness for dance students. To earn the designation, studios must complete two training tracks. The first track centers on dance safety and educational best practices. It focuses on background checks, CPR and First Aid, abuse awareness and prevention, injury prevention and response, and safety and emergency preparedness. The second focuses on the wellness and development of youth dancers and covers social media, social media safety, today's dance culture, developmentally appropriate artistry, body image, nutrition, disordered eating, bullying, and conflict resolution. Only studios that complete both tracks are eligible for certification.

"We want to do more than just teach great dance at The Dance Corner," said studio owner Carrie Smith. "We want to help develop healthy, happy dancers with an environment that focuses on the well-being of kids. Of course, this also

Haddam Lions give Maggi Humanitarian Award for 2019

By Kathy Brown

On Jan. 18, 2020 Lori Maggi was presented with the Haddam Lion's Club's Humanitarian Award for 2019 at a ceremony held at St. Clements. "The award is given annually throughout our Lion's district and each club has the opportunity to nominate someone," explained Mark Glazier, who is in the Haddam Lion's Club. "The only criteria are that you are not a member of the Lion's Club and that you work to make your community a better place," said Mark.

"Lori lives her life with a big heart and an eye toward the betterment of our community," said Mark. "Lori, in our opinions, is the definition of a humanitarian. We felt this was the person who deserved to be recognized. Whether working toward bringing the Tylerville community closer through events such as the tree lighting, or on a more personal level, taking younger people under her wing to help through whatever troubles they may be facing, [Lori] works hard to make her community better and helps others without seeking any recognition for all of her efforts."

When asked what she did to deserve the award, Lori said, "I was surprised when they asked me to accept the nomination, and felt I didn't deserve it. I am humbled but believe they are the true humanitarians."

When pressed farther, I found that she has done a lot in the community, from public things like refereeing Girls and Boys soccer, serving on Haddam's Economic Development Commission, teaching CCD for a few years at St. Peter's Church in Higganum, to private things like taking in homeless children. She has supported the Lion's Club, which her husband, Larry Maggi belongs to, by cooking meals for them, and helping work on events behind the scenes.

"When Larry and I were first married and lived in Hartford, the young kids would come to our apartment building and we would spend time with them," said Lori. "Larry would help them repair their bicycles. One day, one of the children came to me and told me that one young girl, around 7, couldn't go home and that her mother threw her out of the house. I talked to the child, asking many questions. She told me her mother 'takes medicine up her nose.' I called the police, who went over to check it out. The mother was clearly beaten up and would not admit to abuse or let the officers into her house. She told them she didn't want the child. The police asked her to pack a bag for the child. The mother grabbed several pieces of undergarments and that's it; threw it in a bag and gave it to the cops. The girl had no other family to go to. DCF agreed to let Larry and I keep her until they could find an appropriate foster family for her. I'll never forget the expression on her face when she woke up in the morning before school and had pancakes waiting for her. You'd think we took her to Disney!"

HKHS WRESTLING 2020

HKHS hosts Cougar Duals

By Val Williams

On Saturday, Jan. 25, Haddam Killingworth High School hosted the Haddam Killingworth Cougar Duals. Walking in from outside, you could hear the sound of whistles, shouting, and applause coming from the gym. Six schools participated in the event and each team had five matches.

Our HK wrestling team put in an impressive performance, placing third overall behind the Guilford (Class M) and Wethersfield (Class L) teams.

Standout performances were put in by Thomas Perry, Cameron Hines, Nick Glynn, and Ben Williams, all who went 5-0 for the day. Co-Captain Cameron Hines summed up the day by stating, "We don't have many duals in our season, so it was good to see our team be so successful. I also felt a lot of team comradery today since the dual was at HK."

Largest Papyrus Card/Gift Store in Middlesex County Migraine Headaches

Migraines are a complex disorder characterized by recurrent episodes of headache, most often unilateral and in some cases associated with visual or sensory symptoms, collectively known as an aura, which arise most often before the head pain. Migraine is most common in women and has a strong genetic component.

Typical Signs and Symptoms

- Throbbing or pulsating headache, with moderate to severe pain that intensifies with physical activity,
- Unilateral and localized pain in the frontotemporal and ocular area, but may be felt anywhere around head or neck, with pain building over 1-2 hours, progressing to back of head and more spread out. With headache lasting 4-72 hours, with nausea and vomiting, and sensitivity to light and sound.

To be diagnosed as migraine the patient must have at least five headache attacks lasting 4-72 hours, along with two of the following characteristics: 1) Unilateral location, 2) Pulsating Quality, 3) Moderate or severe pain intensity, 4) Pain is aggravated by physical activity.

Treatment

Acute treatment aims to reverse, or at least stop the progression of a headache, and is most effective if medication can be started within 15 minutes. Triptans, analgesics, non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs, and antiemetics are used for the acute treatment.

But if frequency of attacks is greater than 2 per month, or each attack lasts longer than 24 hours then prophylactic treatment may be recommended. But, as always consult your physician for professional guidance.

Oh Fudge and More!

By Kathy Brown

In 2011, Brad and Bridget Marshall moved to Haddam because they wanted a small town community with a great school district in which to raise their children. After graduating from Fairfield University with a degree in Economics and Marketing, Bridget worked as a Marketing Manager for a consumer products company until she had her first child, and then she became a “stay at home.” Two more children followed.

While staying home, Bridget began making fudge to bring to parties. “People went nuts! So I tried another combo,” Bridget told us. In February 2018, she started the “Oh Fudge and More” business selling handcrafted artisan fudge and chocolate specialties “as something for myself” as a hobby and though “everyone loves my fudge and chocolates,” she didn’t imagine “the growth we would have so quickly.” She started signing up for craft fairs, as well as the Pop-up Holiday Market in 2018. Soon she was booked many weekends at fairs and festivals around the state.

“It’s something I enjoy and people always comment on my creativity,” Bridget said. “I try to think outside the box with a little modern twist on some old favorites. I always use very high quality ingredients which really makes a difference. And I expand my product line based on suggestions that I get from customers.” Right now she has over 15 flavors of fudge, as well as chocolate dipped cookies and pretzels, and toffee, caramel chocolate covered apples, and more. Prices range from $5-20.

While she does not have a brick and mortar shop yet, you can find her products at Fork in the Road (310 Saybrook Road, Higganum). You can also find her online at her website, on Facebook, Etsy, and Instagram. On her website, she has a listing of events such as craft fairs that she will be attending with her delicious array of goodies.

Bridget also does custom orders, which she has a lot of fun making. “I really like the creative aspect of a custom order and creating something perfect for my customers’ needs.” Those custom orders can be chocolate covered cookies decorated like soccer balls for a soccer team, chocolate covered cookies in the shape of a rattle for a baby shower, or employee/corporate gifts, and she can accommodate various budgets. Once, she replicated the image of a medical

For various holidays, she has specials – Valentine’s Day, Mother’s Day, St. Patrick’s Day, whether it’s a combination or a limited time only flavor of fudge. You can get a box of treats or a whole tray. When perusing her Facebook page, I saw beautiful luscious chocolate covered strawberries, custom chocolates for a baptism or communion, teacher gifts, fudge for St. Patrick’s Day, a bucket of cookies for Mother’s Day, and more! Who knew that chocolate was appropriate for every occasion and no occasion at all!

She has been renting a commercial kitchen, but she’s in the process of building one. “I see my business growing with the completion of my kitchen and my ability to produce more efficiently,” said Bridget. She employs three part time workers now who help with sales, packaging, and her website, which just got a facelift.

She even helps groups do fundraising. “I give 40% of sales back to the organization and partner to build a custom selection of goodies to offer.”

If you’re having a craving after seeing these pictures, order something delicious by emailing Bridget at ohfudgeandmore@yahoo.com.

Little did she know that her fudge and other products would be such a hit. “My hope is that our products help customers pause and enjoy small moments in our increasingly busy lives.”

Maggi honored

Lori said that in Haddam years later, on two different occasions, they took in homeless local children who were living in the woods and in friend’s basements, and in trouble with the law. “Larry and I took them in, clothed, fed and housed them, hired lawyers, got them to turn themselves in, and confront their legal trouble. We gave them jobs at our store, and taught them a trade.”

“Lori Maggi is a generous and kind person,” said Don Roche, Haddam Lion’s Club President. “Consistently giving of her time and energy for the good of others and the community. It is an honor to have her support for our cause.”

New business: BarrelHouse Craft Beer & Wine House

By Sharon Challenger

On a Saturday evening, a cold and rainy Connecticut winter evening, people are tempted to stay home. However, it was not just an ordinary Saturday evening. It was the weekend of the Grand Opening for the BarrelHouse Craft Beer and Wine House in Killingworth CT. As I stepped inside, I was immediately greeted by a warm and friendly staff member, Amanda.

“Welcome!” she exclaimed. I immediately felt as if she was a family member, which is always a good thing in New England! She introduced me to the owner Keith Nairn, who was, as you can imagine, quite busy working behind the bar. Originally from Madison, Keith and his family decided to put down roots in Killingworth because of the small town feel it has for them. People are “down to earth,” friendly, and enjoy gathering for conversation and fun. Which is exactly why he wanted to create a place for people in and around the area to come to.

As I looked around the room, it was clear that Keith had done exactly what he set out to do. The space is warm and lively. There are several tables, some round, some square, each capable of seating four people. The bar is L-shaped and capable of seating eight people. Did I mention that every seat was filled? Twenty-four oak barrels in rows of 8 long by 3 tall solidly stand along the front wall. The “on tap” menu has a wide selection to choose from. The list includes beer from CT, CO, ME and RI. The wine list includes Reds, Whites from CA, CT, and CO. Amanda told me about the legend behind the wine called “King Chanco Bandito’s Blood Red Blend.” The list also includes non-alcoholic beer and beverages as well.

After taking some photographs, I took a moment to chat with patrons. At one table four women sat enjoying wine, beer and some of the treats that they brought to share with one another. It was clear they were having a very good time as smiles were all around. At another table, I thought I spied Killingworth’s First Selectman Cathy Iino. She was with two friends and to my delight they were sharing what looked like some sourdough bread with their wine. Having recently started baking sourdough bread myself, I could not resist a conversation with them. They welcomed me, again as if I were family! We discussed the tricks of sourdough breadmaking, while we munched on bread and venison sausage. We spoke about the importance of places where people meet and enjoy good times together. In a world where everything is going at breakneck speed, we need moments where we slow down, look one another in the eye, and “break bread” together. By the end of my evening at the Barrelhouse, it was clear that this was just such a place. Good beer, good wine, good people, and you can bring your own snacks! It doesn’t get any better.

Jesus Forgives Sin! He Said, “GO AND SIN NO MORE”

The religious police arrested a woman caught in the act of adultery. The Law required the death penalty by stoning, and her accusers wanted Jesus to judge and condemn her. Jesus said, “He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her...”⁹ When the accusers heard this, they slipped away one by one...until only Jesus was left in the middle of the crowd with the woman.¹⁰ Then Jesus stood up again and said to the woman, “Woman, where are those accusers of yours? Has no one condemned you?”¹¹ She said, “No one, Lord.” And Jesus said to her, “Neither do I condemn you; go and sin no more” (John 8:7-11).

Jesus healed the sick. “Now a certain man was there who had an infirmity thirty-eight years.”⁸ When Jesus saw him lying there, and knew that he already had been in that condition a long time, He said to him, “Do you want to be made well?” After Christ healed the man, “Jesus found him in the temple, and said to him, “See, you have been made well. Sin no more, lest a worse thing come upon you” (John 5:5-6, 14). What could be worse than to perish in hell? Jesus said, “God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life.”¹⁷ God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved.¹⁸ He who believes in Him is not condemned; but he who does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.¹⁹ And this is the condemnation, that the light has come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light... (John 3:16-19). “For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God” (Romans 3:23).

Jesus said, “If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me...No one, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God” (Luke 9:23, 62). “We should no longer be slaves of sin...”¹⁴ For sin shall not have dominion over you...²³ For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord” (Romans 6:6-23).

ADULT PROGRAMS

The Long Journeys Home

Wednesday, Feb. 5, at 6:30 p.m.

Come hear the moving stories of two Indigenous men and their repatriations as told by Nick Bellantoni from his new book a Long Journeys Home: The Repatriations of Henry 'Opukaha'ia and Albert Afraid of Hawk. Henry 'Opukaha'ia (ca. 1792—1818) and Itankusun Wanbli (ca. 1879—1900) lived almost a century apart and came from different Indigenous Nations – Hawaiian and Lakota. Yet the circumstances of Western imperialism that led them to leave their homelands and come to Connecticut where they died and were buried have striking similarities. In 1992 and 2008, descendant women of the men had callings that their ancestors wished to “come home” and that started the repatriation process. CT state archaeologist Nick Bellantoni oversaw the archaeological disinterment and forensic identifications in returning these men to their respective Native families. The Long Journeys Home chronicles these significant stories as examples of the wide-reaching impact of colonialism and the resurgence of Hawaiian and Lakota cultures.

Nicholas F. Bellantoni is an associate adjunct professor in the Anthropology Department at the University of Connecticut and Emeritus Connecticut State Archaeologist at the Connecticut State Museum of Natural History.

Duo Retro Craft: DIY Decoupage Glass Plate

On Wednesday, Feb. 12, at 6:00 p.m. come learn how to make your own decorative decoupage glass plate. Decoupage is an art form dating back to the 17th century which decorates surfaces by applying cutouts, such as paper or fabric, and then coating them with several layers of decoupage glue. We will be coloring designs of own choice with colored pencils and using decoupage glue to adhere the designs to the plate. All supplies will be provided. Makes a great gift! This is a buddy program: parents and grandparents, older siblings, and caregivers work paired to help younger learners (ages 8 and up) learn the craft. Please note that space is limited for this program and registration is required. Please call 860-345-2204 or visit www.brainerdlibrary.org to register.

Registration is not required for programs unless specified in the description.

Upcoming Programs: Edgar Allan Poe; Sunday with the Suffragists

By Genie Dethloff,
Chair of Publicity, Killingworth Library

The Poe You May Not Know

Phil Devlin, retired Haddam Killingworth history teacher, will discuss Edgar Allan Poe on Sunday, Feb. 9, at 3:30 p.m. at the Killingworth Library. Tuesday, Feb. 18, at 7:00 p.m. will be the snow date.

The Poe You May Not Know: Born in the same year as Abraham Lincoln (1809), Poe only lived 40 years but in that short time, his influence both on literature and on popular culture has been enormous. This presentation will focus on Poe's lasting contributions to literature and to popular culture as well as on his cosmology—a seldom discussed but important aspect of his view of the world. Poe's theory of unity as embodied in his tales, poems, and in his essay entitled "Eureka," contains, according to British philosopher and writer Colin Wilson, "some staggering, almost incredible insights" into the operation of the universe. Come and learn more about this influential but often misunderstood man.

The program is free but advance sign-up is required by calling the Killingworth Library at 860-663-2000 or online at www.killingworthlibrary.org.

Sundays with the Suffragists

The Killingworth Library Association is sponsoring a movie and discussion series to commemorate the 100th anniversary of women's suffrage. It has only been 100 years since American women were legally entitled, through a constitutional amendment, to vote. The struggle was real, and it was epic. Come learn more about this pivotal period in American politics. Bring your children—daughters and sons! We will read two books written for young readers and watch and discuss several movies. These winter afternoons can be dark and dreary. Become enlightened with us!

Programs will be held at the Killingworth Library at 3:30 p.m. All programs are free but advance sign-up is required by calling the Killingworth Library at 860.663.2000 or online at www.killingworthlibrary.org.

Sunday, Feb. 2: Introduction to the series, and PBS film—One Woman, One Vote. This PBS documentary chronicles the 70 year struggle leading up to the passage of the 19th Amendment (2005; NR; 1 hr.)

Sunday, Feb. 23: Movie – Iron Jawed Angel. The story of Alice Paul and Lucy Burns played by Hillary

Swank and Frances O'Connor (2004; NR; 2 hr. 3 min)

Sunday, March 1: Movie—Suffragette. In 1912 London, a young working mother is galvanized into radical political activism supporting women's right to vote. Starring Carey Mulligan, Meryl Streep, and Helena Bonham Carter (2015; PG-13; 1 hr. 46 min)

Sunday, March 8: Viewing of sections of PBS documentary by Ken Burns, Not for Ourselves Alone, and book discussion of Votes for Women by Winifred Conkling. Books will be available for checkout ahead of time.

Sunday, April 19: Lecture by Dawn Hoffman - "Herland and Charlotte Perkins Gilman". Gilman, born in Hartford, was a women's rights advocate, feminist, suffragist, and prolific writer of feminist nonfiction. She was also the publisher of the Forerunner magazine and author of the novel Herland.

Additional talk not on a Sunday: Tuesday, April 7: 7:00 p.m. – Discussion of the 19th Amendment to the US Constitution, passed in 1920, and the tumultuous process that finally led to women's right to vote with Retired Haddam-Killingworth history teacher Phil Devlin.

The people woven into the narrative include the ghosts of long-gone Indians, explorers, and fur traders. There is a balance of past and present as the author focuses equally on land and people. Fox’s interviews with Native Americans and local businessmen get to the basics of their lives and philosophies without being intrusive. Extra copies are available at the circulation desk. Newcomers always welcome!
